TEXAS TOWN DESTROYED

Flames Sweep Business Section of Conroe of All But Three Houses.

Conroe, Tex., Feb. 22.—With the exception of three buildings the business section of Conroe was destroyed by fire early today. The loss is estimated at $100,000, partly covered by insurance. The fire originated in the building occupied by the Capital Drug Company, and was quickly beyond the control of the limited fire-fighting equipment of Conroe. In all forty buildings, mostly one-story frame structures, were burned.

Marion Boy Signally Honored.

Jones Gill who is a law student at the Kentucky State College at Lexington was chosen by "The Patterson Literary Society" of that institution to be one of its debating team in a meet with the Central University team sometime in April. We do not know his colleagues or whom they will meet in the battle Royal but feel sure the State University's interest will be well represented.

Pierces Great Dispersal Sale.

Wednesday Feb. 22nd, as per announcement C. J. Pierce at his store near Marion sold at public out cry all of his stock consisting of Stallions, Jacks, Mares and Jennetts. Store And Dwelling Burned.

The fine store and dwelling of W. Oscar Wickers, at Mexico, in this county, was entirely destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning. The fire started in the store room and had gained such headway before discovery that none of the stock could be saved, and all turned their attention to removing the household goods, the greater part of which were carried to safety. The cause of the fire is unknown. The loss is estimated at $4,000 on which was carried an insurance of $2,100.

Notice Magazine Readers.

During my absence from Marion, my sister Miss Clara Potter will have charge of my magazine readers.

Anyone wishing to subscribe for The Ladies Home Journal Saturday Evening Post, Womans Home Companion or the Delineator will do me a favor by telephoning to No. 172 H.

Yours very truly,

Miss Jennie Potter.

Candidate For Secretary of State.

Dr. C. F. Creelcus, of Pendleton county, who is candidate for Secretary of State, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, May 27, 1911, was here Tuesday meeting the voters. Dr. Creelcus was the author of the famous "tobacco bill" which benefitted the farmers immensely by legalizing the Associations and pools.

DEATHS

J. J. HUGHES

As the sturdy oaks of the forest fall before the woodman's ax, so are the pioneers of our county falling before the scythe of the grim Reaper. And this week we are called upon to announce the passing of one each of these true hearted men and women who helped to blaze the way of civilization in the wildernesses of this county.

Mr. John James Hughes an old and highly respected citizen, who lived near this city on the Piney road on the hill overlooking the city, died Friday, Feb. 24, 1911 after an illness which extended over several weeks which was superinduced by a stroke of paralysis from which he never rallied perceptibly. He is survived by his fourth wife who was Mrs. Harriet Clark Hunt before her marriage, by two brothers, H. and W. F. Hughes, one half sister, Mrs. Jane Wheeler and by five sons, Henry Robt. H. Melvin and Charles of this town and county and W. H. Hughes of Stratton, Colorado.

Mr. Hughes was a primitive Baptist by faith, he was born near Carthage, Smith county, Tennessee and moved here soon after the war. His first wife was Miss Martha DeJarnette, his second Miss Francis Allison, his third Mrs. Josephine Dollins, Miss Julia Dollins was his step-daughter. His remains were laid to rest Saturday afternoon at the old Jesse Paris graveyard which is located on his old farm. Rev. John A. Hunt preached the funeral.

MRS. WM. CONYER.

Mrs. Parthena Walker Conyer, relict of the late Wm. Conyer, who died only five months ago, passed away Sunday morning, Feb. 26, 1911, at 2:20 o'clock at the home of her son-in-law, I. F. Threlkeld near Levas. She was about 90 years of age being one of the oldest women in the county and one of the longest resident here.

She was born in Wilson county, Tenn., in 1821 and moved to this county in early womanhood. Mrs. Martha Ann Conyer, deceased mother of W. M. Conyer of this city was her sister and Mrs. Newt Brasher of Caldwell Springs is a half sister.

She is survived by three sons, G. W. and T. M., of this city and J. H. of Levas and by one daughter, Mrs. Kate Threlkeld. She professed faith in early life but was not a member of any church, she owned the farm, at the time of her death, which she had helped to clear and lived on for almost a half century. The interment was at Union Monday afternoon.

J. T. Butcher Dead.

Last Monday "Jim Tom" Butcher died of Bright's disease at his home in the Flat Rock community. He was eighty-two years of age, and is survived by a wife and a large family of children.

The remains were interred Tuesday at Old Livingston burial ground.—Princeton Leader.

Death of Mrs. Mary Cox Fleming.

Mrs. Fleming who was stricken apoplexy Sunday night at her home in Salem, lingered until Tuesday night. She passed away without regaining consciousness at 9:45. She was seventy-four years old and had lived in and near Salem all her life. She was a lovable character, always jolly and in her earlier life her home was always a pleasant one for the young people.

Mrs. Fleming is survived by four daughters: Mrs. Ellen Croft of this city; Mrs. Mary Farris and Miss Cox of Salem; Mrs. Sallie Rutler, of Bayou, and three sons: Felix Cox, of Salem; Will Cox, of Fredonia; and James Cox, of Carrsville. One sister survives her, Mrs. Thomas W. Lowery, of Salem. The interment will be at Salem today, Rev. Martin Miller officiating.

Frightful Accident At Sawmill

Last Friday at the Tabb mines near Mexico, where a saw mill is being operated, Harvey Whitcomb met with a distressing accident which will cost him his life probably. In some accidental way he fell onto the saw which fortunately was running at such slow speed that his clothes and body stopped it, but not before it had plowed a great gash half through his body, cutting one lung, the spleen and liver, besides exposing and tearing out entrails, which altho torn from his body did not become punctured themselves and this fact is in his favor, in recovering. When his co-workers saw his plight, the engine was stopped and the saw backed away from his prostrate body and the unfortunate man removed to his home. Dr. Fox of Crayne was hastily summoned and he called in consultation Drs. Driskill of this city and Bunton and Spickard of Fredonia and everything human skill could suggest was done for the sufferer.

He is resting easy as we go to press and says he is going to get well. He is a son-in-law of Geo. H. Cramer, the mining evangelist and is said to be a most estimable gentleman.

MARRIAGES

KEMP—LONG

Last Wednesday, Mr. Ashley Kemp, son of R. H. Kemp and Miss Bettie Long daughter of Mrs. Long of Chapel Hill neighborhood, went to Princeton and were married. They returned on the afternoon train, and are at his father's home near the city limits. Miss Dedie Kemp accompanied them.

Corn Mill At Crayne.

We wish to notify the trade contiguous to Crayne that we have an old fashioned burr mill in operation and are ready to serve the trade with first class grinding. Also have a sheller and an emory wheel and expect to open a first class black-smith shop, at which all kinds of repair and wood work and horse-shoeing will be done.

Oklahoma Kentuckians

To Form Organization.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 22. (Special.)—A call was issued here today by W. A. Wickliffe, for all former residents of Kentucky now living in Oklahoma to convene at Oklahoma City next Saturday for the purpose of organizing an association. Gov. Cruce, formerly of Kentucky, is said to be behind the movement. Arrangements for a reunion and banquet will be made.

Death Chair Shipped.

The death chair, to be used in electrocuting condemned prisoners at the Eddyville penitentiary is finished and was shipped to the prison this afternoon in care of a deputy warden. The chair was built at the Sherrill-Russell plant. It is of light colored, heavy oak, substantially built, and with padded seat and adjustable back, also padded. Clamps for the shoulders, for the arms (2) and the ankles, with a cap, all to be fitted with electrodes, complete the death dealing outfit, when properly connected with the current. Paducah Sun.

ONE VICTIM OF TENNESSEE

CENTRAL WRECK IDENTIFIED

Miss Fannie Morris Of Caldwell County Identified by Stick Pin and Some Silver Money.

The Hopkinsville New Era of yesterday afternoon says:

Positive identification of one of the bodies found in the wreck of the Tennessee Central train near Clarksville Sunday afternoon as that of Miss Fannie Morris, of near Macedonia, in this county, has been made.

Miss Morris left her home last Sunday to visit relatives at New Providence, Tenn., and not until a letter was received by her mother, Mrs. J. K. Thomas, asking why she had not come for the expected visit, was it suspected that any ill had befallen her. Investigation followed and a stick pin was identified as hers as well as some silver money.

It was at first thought the body would be sent here today for identification but the description of the young lady who was a passenger on the train and who had not been seen or heard of since, so accurately fit Miss Morris, together with the finding of the pin and the money so convinced her people that the unfortunate young woman was she that this was not done. An inquest will be held at Clarksville today and the body will arrive here tomorrow morning and be taken to Macedonia where it will be buried.

Miss Morris was eighteen years of age and a popular and excellent young lady and her untimely death has cast a pall of gloom over her section.

Today at noon all that remained of the once mortal remains of Miss Fannie Morris arrived in this city from Clarksville, in a box 9x18 inches, only a scorched human heart. The little casket will be taken to her home, and there be buried.

SPLENDID ATTRACTION.

Myron Frisbie, manager of the Majestic Theatre, is being complimented on the success, financially and otherwise, of his entertainment Monday evening when "C. J. Smith presented Sis Perkins," a four act play on the order of "The Old Homestead." The Opera House was well filled and all were pleased.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Rev. T. C. Gebaur will preach next Sunday morning at eleven o'clock, and seven o'clock in the evening. Everybody invited.

Mrs. Sam Asher, of Piney Fork, who died Sunday, was buried Monday afternoon.

W. B. Yates arrived home Monday from Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Elder, of this city, formerly of Iowa, have purchased a part of the Wyatt land near Fredonia and will settle in old Kentucky.

E. R. Merriek was the fortunate winner in the diamond ring contest at Taylor & Cannan's. He is the gentleman who was in charge of the Blue & Nunn farm at old Jim and Little Jim mines last year.

NO MORE DANDRUFF

Haynes & Taylor Know What Is Making Clean Scalps.

In order to rid your scalp of filthy dandruff you must kill the germ. There is a hair dressing called Parisian Sage which is now sold in every town in America, that is guaranteed by Haynes & Taylor to eradicate dandruff, stop falling hair, splitting hair and scalp itch in two weeks, or money back.

If you have dandruff get a large 50 cent bottle to-day and rid yourself of it. Remember that if dandruff germs are not destroyed in time, the hair will surely fall out and baldness will follow.

"I have used Parisian Sage and like it very much as a dandruff cure and scalp cleaner. My hair is very much better than it was before."—Mrs. E. A. Bean, Concord, N. H., June 8th, 1910.

Old Kentucky,

Grayson, Ky., Feb. 12, 1911. Kentucky, my! that word means so much and especially to one that was born in Kentucky and has learned to love her steep mountains, her rolling blue grass counties, her leveler western counties and small hills commonly known as the penerile.

This week I was in some of the blue grass regions of north Bath county with five turnpikes. Land sells at $75 to $160 per acre. I was also in Menifee county, said to be one of the poorest counties in the state, where land sells from $3 to $40 per acre, and yet these counties join. What a marked difference there is in the land and in the people—and let me say if Kentucky had only been composed of the blue grass belt, Kentucky would never been noted for her hospitality.

The blue grass counties have the right to wear the honor of making Kentucky famous for fine horses and cattle; the mountains the right of title of making Kentucky famous for feuds and moonshine whisky, but I do believe that west Kentucky has the right to the honor of producing the most beautiful women that ever marked this good old earth of ours. The climate seems to be exactly right to produce the most delicate candy peach complexions among the ladies of western Kentucky that one sees any where he may go. I have heard traveling men speak of the pretty girls of Marion, Princeton, Paducah and Mayfield. We do know that no better people live on the face of the globe than western Kentucky. The people of the mountains are very friendly and good to strangers—always willing to feed the hungry and help the unfortunate. What the mountains most need, is more men like the Lear Bros., Bros. Shell, Yates and Price to come among them and tell them about Him that said love your enemies. I was in one community where Bro. Price had held a fine meeting and many were converted and that community loves one western Kentucky man. I understand Charles Lear is across the mountains in West Virginia working. I hope that Kentucky may yet rise up men that will take the mountains of Kentucky for God. It will take eternity to show the vast good done by these western Kentucky men and only God can reward them sufficiently for their labors.

Attacks School Principal.

A severe attack on school principal, Chas. B. Allen, of Sylvania, Ga., is thus told by him. "For more than three years," he writes, "I suffered indescribable torture from rheumatism, liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys. All remedies failed till I used Electric Bitters. But four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." Such results are common. Thousands bless them for curing stomach trouble, female complaints, kidney disorders, biliousness, and for new health and vigor. Try them. Only 50 cents at Haynes & Taylor and J. H. Orme's, Marion, Ky.

Letter From Tennessee.

Reelfoot, Tenn., Feb. 14, 1911. Editor, Record-Press, Marion, Ky.

As I was born and raised near Marion and Crittenden Co., and am now living away down here on the big Mississippi river in Lake Co, Tenn., and as there are many in old Kentucky who I believe to be the best of friends to me and whom I know to be readers of the Record-Press and as I am at leisure and thinking of my friends and loved ones in Crittenden, I was made to feel that some one who reads the Record-Press would be glad to hear from me through the Press if you will allow me space for my few remarks.

The first thing I will tell you about is our trip from Marion to Ridgely, Tenn. We got on the train at Marion, Ky., arrived at Dyersburg, Tenn., that night stayed over night, and at nine o'clock next morning we boarded the train for Ridgely, which was our stopping place. And when we got in about six miles of our journey, just as we were crossing a tressel, it broke through and here we went first one way and then the other. I can not tell very much about the wreck for just about that time I lost my mind. Myself, wife and three little children were in the coach that fell through. Our oldest boy got badly hurt.

This is a fine country for farm land, all being of a sandy nature they raise fine corn and cotton, but that land all overflows. I am living in a house built on blocks so we can keep out of the overflow. I came here in Sept. and rented land at $5.00 per acre. I am going to try to make a crop this year, but don't know how about 1912 I may be back by that time.

We have some nice pets down here, they are wild cats. They come up on our porch at night. Well with best wishes to the Record-Press, and its many readers, I will close this letter.

Yours Respectfully,
John W. Fox.

GOOD WORK

Done Daily in Marion, Many Citizens Tell of It.

Nearly every reader has heard of Doan's Kidney Pills. Their good work in Marion still continues, and our citizens are constantly adding endorsement by public testimony. No better proof of merit can be had than the experience of friends and neighbors. Read this case:

J. O. Taber, Marion, Ky., says: "I was afflicted with kidney trouble for about six years. The pains in my back were severe at times and when I was stooping or lifting, sharp twinges passed through my loins. My back always ached more intensely at night and in the morning I felt very lame. I tired easily, was languid and nervous and had headaches. The kidney secretions also passed too frequently and caused me annoyance. I took the contents of one and a half boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Haynes & Taylor's drug store and they rid me of every symptom of my trouble. I am now in good health."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Every hundred rds. of 39 in. fence you buy from us, you get 960 lbs. wire, all stay wires no. 11. Why not buy the best when you buy? We can furnish you any amount you want. Don't take our word come and see for your self.

T. H. Cochran & Co.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish through the columns of this paper to extend our heart felt thanks to the many, many kind and sympathizing friends, who so nobly assisted us during the illness and death of our dear husband and father. Words fail to express the gratitude of our hearts toward them, and may God shower His choicest blessings upon them for their kindness to him and us.

MRS. S. C. BENNETT and children.

Do you know that of all the minor ailments, colds are by far the most dangerous? It is not the cold itself that you need to fear, but the serious diseases that it often leads to. Most of these are known as germ diseases. Pneumonia and consumption are among them. Why not take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and cure your cold while you can? For sale by all dealers.

A Man's Stomach

Is Just as Good, or Bad as He Makes It.

If you are blessed with a good stomach be thankful and make up your mind to keep it good.

If you have a bad stomach, one that makes you feel miserable after eating; one that turns your food sour and causes gas to belch up in the mouth, then you want to get busy at once and turn your bad stomach into a good one. How can this be done? You ask.

Simply by using daily the best prescription for stomach ailments ever written.

What is the name of this prescription?

Wherever civilization exists it is known as M-I-O-N-A.

Haynes & Taylor sell it for 50 cents a box; they do more; they guarantee it to relieve stomach distress, in five minutes, they go even further and say: if M-I-O-N-A does not cure indigestion, acute or chronic, or any diseases caused by stomach disturbance they will give you your money back, without any haggling or red tape.

And this guarantee means that M-I-O-N-A stomach tablets, as most people call them, will cure biliousness, nausea, nervousness, heartburn, foul breath, nightmare and sleeplessness.

It means that M-I-O-N-A is such a wonderfully good remedy that it quickly turns a bad stomach into a good one, that will stay good, strong and vigorous, just as long as it is treated right. Try M-I-O-N-A ye men of weak stomachs, you take no risk. It is guaranteed by Haynes & Taylor and druggists everywhere.

"Lame Leg Well"

"I wish to say that I have used Sloan's Liniment on a lame leg that has given me much trouble for six months. It was so bad that I couldn't walk sometimes for a week. I tried doctors' medicine and had a rubber bandage for my leg, and bought everything that I heard of, but they all did me no good, until at last I was persuaded to try Sloan's Liniment. The first application helped it, and in two weeks my leg was well."—A. L. HUNTER, of Hunter, Ala.

Good for Athletes.

Mr. K. GILMAN, instructor of athletics, 417 Warren St., Roxbury, Mass., says:—"I have used

CARRIED HALF MILE ON PILOT

Wagon Containing Twelve School Children Struck by Train.

By Associated Press

Wichita, Kan., Feb. 8.—A wagon carrying twelve school children was hit by a train southeast of this city late yesterday. Harley Hartenbower, 15 years old, and George Hartenbower, 18 years old, were injured internally and will die. Three daughters of Mrs. Ellen Allen were caught on the engine pilot and carried a half mile, but were only slightly injured.

PERRY CREEK

Health is good at this writing with the exception of a few bad colds.

We are very sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Sam Asher. She has many friends and loved ones to mourn her loss.

Ellis Custard, who is employed by the Marion Milling Co., visited his father, J. W. Custard, Sunday.

J. L. Hunt and wife passed through our little town Sunday enroute to John Campbell's.

The Hunt boys are doing a nice little business with their grist mill and blacksmith shop. They are also prepared to grind your plow-points and do most any old thing that comes along.

Joseph Hunt made a flying trip to Crayne Saturday.

Ed Crayne and wife visited D. S. P. Crider, of Marion, Sunday.

For nice, fresh groceries, see Ed Hunt.

Marion Boswell and son, and the Perryman boys passed through this section Sunday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Sam Asher.

Tom Boswell sold and delivered nine nice hogs to the market Saturday.

Gives Prompt Relief

Wm. H. Douglas, Jr., of Washington, D. C., says: I take great pleasure in informing you I have used Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey, and it gave me almost instant relief.

Star School.

Saturday Feb. 18th, 1911, was the last day of Starr school. The day dawned dark and cloudy—heavy clouds were lowering in the west and a midst of rain falling. By 10 o'clock the house was well filled. The ringing of the bell said, "Time is up," and in a few chosen words the teacher, E. D. Reynolds, introduced the writer, who read Numbers tenth chapter and offered prayer. The "Frog Hollow School," a dialogue, was a live school from the start. Hermon Boucher was the star actor.

"The Tramp," a dialogue, composed by the teacher, he, the tramp, took off six coats and about four pair of pants. But a group of boys broke up his quiet rest and his peaceful slumbers were no more.

Buying a Sewing Machine, (six characters) E. D. Reynolds offered for sale—"The Time Saver." Herman Boucher, chain and lightning; Otis Hamby, the hurry up; Hodge McNeely, the screw and twist; Reynolds, his machine would turn in 1000 tucks in one minute. Hodge McNeely said the screw and twist would ruffle anything on earth except a woman's temper.

A dialogue: "The Book Agent" (three characters) Mr. Reynolds, Kirby Guess and Hodge McNeely—Guess occupied the chair. McNeely pleaded for the good qualities of his book. But Reynolds, the colored servant, went out at the back and came in at the front crying out "clams ten cents a dozen" this was a clincher. It closed amidst great laughter.

Imagination: (four characters) Reynolds and Hamby principal actors.

"Wa Hoo" "wa hoo" when I hit you on the knee you sing "wa hoo" "wa hoo" this was to ward off the hints. Just at the conclusion of this the principal actor received a whack on the nose that caused the blood to pour freely and he announced the welcome dinner.

Afternoon the teacher presented rewards to a number of pupils. C. C. Crayne and Ed Hunt furnished the music.

Speeches by Raymond Boucher, Virgil Alexander, Vera Crider, Ercil Alexander and Victor Hunt.

Snarl children: (four characters)—Orten Woodside, the star actor, was the old man, Miss Ruth Austin and Reynolds the contracting parties, Herman Boucher the servant boy. The plot was well laid. The old gentleman at first objected to the union but at last gave his consent and it closed with a marriage and congratulations.

Dr. Fargo: (two characters) consisting of several parts. They were of the Jumbo kind, negro minstrels, negro dialect, etc. They were very amusing and produced many hearty laughs from the audience. Willie Etheridge was one of the principals. Speech by Herman Boucher—1492.

B. T. Bradley was the funny clown.

John Robert and Nan Cobb—This was a marriage plot and was well rendered. (six characters) Orten Woodside, Hodge McNeely, Allen Crider, Misses E. Crider, Nannie Turley and Fannie Austin. This was well rendered and at the close the band played Good Old Summer Time.

Go to California: (four characters) Mrs. Myrtle Bradley and Orten Woodside principal actors. It closed amidst great applause. Jim and Doc: dialogue, closed with a display of fireworks.

Sol's Pants: The tailor had a hard time satisfying his customers, especially fitting pants on Sol. This was quite amusing and laughable.

The Mormon Family: (six characters) Mrs. Myrtle Bradley, the gentle woman; Hodge McNeely, latter day saint; Misses Ruth Austin, Etta Crider, Nannie and Annie Turley, wives. And when those girls in sobs and tears fell weeping around to save his life from the gentle woman. This presented a very sympathetic scene. Closed.

Avoid Harsh Drugs

Many Cathartics Tend to Cause Injury to The Bowels.

If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that we sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called Rexall Orderlies. These are prompt, soothing and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless, tasteless and colorless. Combined with other well known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in their treatment of constipation, it forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not gripe, purge nor cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons and aged people as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in two size packages, 12 tablets 10 cents, 36 tablets 25 cents. Remember you can obtain them only at our store,—The Rexall Store.

One of the most sparkling sessions of comedy ever inaugurated in this city will be seen at the Majestic Theatre when "Peck's Bad Boy" will be presented. Everthing is said to be fresh and overflowing with humorous situations, catchy dialogue, and surprising changes that keep the audience on the qui vive for surge after surge of side-splitting amusement.

Mrs. Mary Fleming of Salem Ky., mother of Mrs. M. E. Croft of this city, was stricken with apoplexy Sunday night about seven o'clock and her friends and family were notified of her serious condition. Mrs. Croft and daughters, Miss Ruth and Mrs. W. V. Haynes accompanied by the latters husband, left as soon as arrangements could be made for her bedside, arriving there about midnight.

Every scene in "Peck's Bad Boy" which is the next attraction for the Majestic Theatre, March the 10th, will be familiar to the many people who will delight in this opportunity of seeing once more a play which has delighted them so many times in the past. The first act is played in the corner grocery store conducted by the old German, Shultz who is the butt of most of the Bad Boy's good natured pranks. The second act shows a typical hotel office which the Bad Boy turns upside down in less time than it takes to tell and the third act represents a family picnic which would have been orderly, peaceful, and quiet had it not been for the lively scion of the house of Peck.

The play is primarily a comedy and has been written with the intention of making people laugh. It has, however, a tuneful musical setting supplied by the various members of the company, all of whom are clever vaudeville entertainers.

An expert, reporting on the street light system at Hopkinsville, where there are ninety-nine are lights, said in his report. "I find that the lamp is of the standard type used by other cities and by referring to the Electrical Dictionary of the United States that your rate per lamp, which you say is $70. per year, is less than I find any other small city is paying. I find that other cities are paying from $75. to $90. a year per lamp."

Altho small towns with high coal rates usually pay more than cities of 10 to 20 thousand. Marion has better lights and at considerably less than rates named above.

"Peck's Bad Boy," which is to be presented at The Majestic Theatre, Friday March the 10th, is one of the most human stories which has ever been offered on the stage. The play's story—mixture as it is—concerns such an American boy as is to be found in any hamlet, village or town or city in this country. It shows this typical American boy at the pranks which every boy of his age has played upon those with whom he comes in contact. The bad boy has for his companions a chum and his best girl, and this trio make things very interesting for the Bad Boy's father, his mother, and the man who runs the corner grocery store.

This season's edition of the old favorite comedy is brighter and more entertaining than any previous one has been because of the unusual ability of the vaudeville performers who are with the company, introducing their specialties during the action of play.

"Uncle Jimmie" Clement and "Little Joe" Walker took a sudden notion that they would their fortune make, so in order to make a start, they decided that they would sell fountain pens. As they did not have enough of the "necessary" to get out of town and because they couldn't swap Mr. Venner a fountain pen for a rail-road ticket, they were compelled to walk. They started for Crayne expecting to make enough sales to buy a ticket home and start a bank account when they got here, but alas! at last accounts two lonely figures were seen hitting the ties on the homeward way and if you had been close enough you might have heard one of them singing that famous old song, "If you get there before I do, just tell them I'm a'comin' to."

ROOK PARTY

On last Friday evening, Miss Mariam Clement entertained at "Rook," at her beautiful home on south main street.

After a delightful time was spent playing the entertaining game, the charming hostess served refreshments consisting of brick ice-cream, cakes and candied cherries.

After refreshments the scores were counted it was found that Misses Yandell, Flanary, and Dixon had tied for the young ladies prize, a beautiful cut glass powder bowl, while Mr. Douglas Clement had the highest score for the young mens prize, which was a silver match box.

Among the guests were: Misses Addie Maynard, Mira Dixon, Susie Boston, Esther Barnett, Maude Flanary, Bernice Driskill, Maude Driskill, Nannie Rochester, Katie Yandell, Ellis Gray, Lena Holtsclaw, Alma Asher, Hazel Pollard, Clara Hammack, and Mary Coffield. Messers: Harry Babb, Robert Jenkins, Douglas Clement, Earl Clement, Maurie Nunn, Maurie Boston, Roy Travis, Audrey Cannan, Roy Hurley, Jim Moore, Allan Foster, Fred Irving, Galen Dixon, Norman Henry, Clarence Franks and Emmett Clifton.

Cavanagh, Forest Ranger

CHAPTER III.
LIZZ AND HER DAUGHTER.

THEY parted on the little porch of the hotel, and her eyes followed his upright figure till he entered one of the shops. He had precisely the look and bearing of a young lieutenant in the regular army. She returned to her own room strangely heartened by her talk with the ranger.

She was still pondering when her mother came in.

"Now'd you sleep last night?"

Lee Virginia could not bring herself to lie. "Not very well," she admitted.

"Neither did I. Fact of the matter is your coming fairly upset me. I've been kind of used up for three months. I don't know what ails me. I ought to go up to Sulphur to see a doctor, but there don't seem to be any free time. I hear to have lost my grip. Food don't give me any strength. I saw you talking with Ross Cavanagh. There's a name. And Rossy—Rossy is what you call a fancy rancher; goes in for alfalfa and fruit and all that. He isn't in the forest service for the use or for graft. He's got a regular palace up there above Sulphur—hot and cold water all through the house, a furnace in the cellar and two bathrooms, so they tell me. I never was in the place. You better keep out of the cuffs. It ain't a fit place for you. Fact is, I wasn't expecting anything so fine as you are. I laid awake till 3 o'clock last night figuring on what to do. I reckon you'd better go back and give this out. It up as a bad job. I used to tell Ed you didn't belong to neither of us, and you don't. I can't see where you did come from—anyhow, I don't want the responsibility of having you here. Why you'll have half the men in the county hitting to my corral. You're too good for any of them. You just plan to pack up and pull out tomorrow."

She went out with a drizzling step that softened the girl's heart. Lee's daughter came nearer to loving her at this moment than at any time since her fifth year.

In truth, Lizz had risen that morning intending to whirl in and clean up the house, being suddenly conscious to some degree of the dirt and disorder around her, but she found herself physically unequal to the task. Her health seemed misty and her foot had been a source of keen pain to her.

She gave sharp answers to all the men who came up to ask after her daughter, and to one who remarked on the girl's good looks and demanded an introduction she said: "Get along! You fellows want to understand I'll kill the man that sets out to fool with my girl. I tell you that!"

While yet Lee Virginia was wondering how to begin the day's work some one knocked on her door and in answer to her invitation a woman stepped in—a thin blond hag with a weak smile and watery blue eyes. "Is this little Lee Virginia?" she asked.

"The girl rose, 'Yes.'"

"Well, howdy?" She extended her hand, and Lee took it. "My name's Jackson Mrs. Orlando Jackson. I know you're a girl before the war. Are you back for to stay?"

"No, I don't think so. Will you sit down?"

Mrs. Jackson took a seat. "Come back to see how you're ma was, I reckon. Found her pretty poorly, didn't you?" She lowered her voice. "I think she's got cancer of the stomach—"

Lee started. "What makes you think so?"

"Well, I know a woman who went just that way. Had that same labby, funny look and that same distress after eating. I told her this morning she'd better go up to Sulphur and see that new doctor."

"What did you mean by the war?" asked Virginia.

"Why, you remember the rustler war? We date everything out here from that year. You was here, for I saw you."

"Oh!" exclaimed Virginia. "I understand now. Yes, I was here. I saw my father at the head of the cowboys."

"They weren't cowboys. They were hired killers from Texas. That's what let you go out of the state. He was on the wrong side, and if it hadn't been for the regular soldiers he'd 'a' been whiped out right here. As it was he had to skip the range and hadn't never been back. I don't suppose folks will lay it up again you been a girl—but they couldn't no son of Ed Wetherford come back here and settle, not for a minute. Why, you've had to bid the whole county a most—out that I lay anything up again her. I tell folks she was that bewitched with Ed she couldn't see how any way but his way. He fought to save his ranch and stock, but she couldn't do nothing—and then to have him go back on her the way he did—skip out 'twixt two days and never write! Just about shot her to pieces. I never could understand that but Ed; he 'peared so mortal fond of you and of her too. He sure 'a' fond of you!" She shook her head. "I can't hardly make me believe Ed Wetherford is alive."

Lee Virginia started. "Who says he's alive?"

"Now, don't get excited, girl. It ain't all right, but yet folks say we don't know his dead. He just dropped out so far as his own is concerned and so far as the county is concerned, but some thought you was with him in the east."

The girl was now aware that her visitor was hoping to gain some further information and so curiously answered: "I've never seen my father since that night the soldiers came and took him away to the fort. And my mother told me he died down in Texas."

Mrs. Jackson rose. "Well, I'm glad to 've had a word with you; but, you hear me, your ma has got to have doctor's help or she's a-goin' to fall down some day soon."

Every word the woman uttered, every tone of her drawing voice, put Lee Virginia back into the past. She heard again the swift gallop of hoofs, saw once more the long line of armed ranchers and felt the hush of fear that lay over the little town on that fateful day. The situation became clearer in her mind. She recalled vividly the words of astonishment and hate with which the women had greeted her mother on the morning when the news came that Edward Wetherford was among the invading cattle barons—was indeed one of the leaders.

In Philadelphia the Rocky mountain states were generous of picturesque lawlessness, the theater of reckless

She heard again the swift gallop of hoofs, saw once more the long line of armed ranchers and felt the hush of fear that lay over the little town on that fateful day. The situation became clearer in her mind. She recalled vividly the words of astonishment and hate with which the women had greeted her mother on the morning when the news came that Edward Wetherford was among the invading cattle barons—was indeed one of the leaders.

some thought you was with him in the east."

The girl was now aware that her visitor was hoping to gain some further information and so curiously answered: "I've never seen my father since that night the soldiers came and took him away to the fort. And my mother told me he died down in Texas."

Mrs. Jackson rose. "Well, I'm glad to 've had a word with you; but, you hear me, your ma has got to have doctor's help or she's a-goin' to fall down some day soon."

Every word the woman uttered, every tone of her drawing voice, put Lee Virginia back into the past. QUICKLY CURES COUGHS, COLDS AND CATARRH.

If you, dear reader, could spend an hour looking over a few of the thousands of testimonials that we have on file, you would not go on suffering from catarrh, that disgusting disease that will surely sap your vitality and weaken your entire system if allowed to continue.

You would have just as much faith in HYOMEI as we have, and we have so much confidence in its wonderful curative virtue that it is sold the country over under positive guarantee to cure catarrh, croup, sore throat, coughs and colds or money back.

No stomach dosing when you breathe HYOMEI. Just pour a few drops of the liquid into the inhaler, and breathe it in.

It is mighty pleasant to use; it opens up those stuffed-up nostrils in two minutes, and makes your head feel as clear as a bell in a short time.

Breath the HYOMEI and kill the catarrh germs. It's the only way to cure catarrh. It's the only way to get rid of that constant hawking, snuffling and spitting.

A complete HYOMEI outfit, which includes a bottle of HYOMEI and a hard rubber pocket inhaler, costs $1.00 at Haynes & Taylor and druggists everywhere. If you already own a Hyomei inhaler you can get an extra bottle of HYOMEI for 50 cents.

"We have used HYOMEI in our family for the cure, and breaking up of coughs, colds, sore throat and catarrhal affections, and can say that it is a grand remedy worth its weight in gold." Mrs. John Cooper, South Wayne, Mich. F23-M9

IMPORTANT RULING

The decision of the Higher Court regarding the pooled tobacco of 1907, is of vital interest to tobacco growers. The court has ruled that the Burley Tobacco Society is entitled to 20 per cent. of the price of all pooled tobacco shipped out and sold. That is, if a man pledged his tobacco to the pool and then soaked it on the market, his contract to the Society still held and it can claim 20 per cent. of the price the tobacco brought. Under this decision of the higher court the Burley Society is going to bring suit against all the sneak poolers, the Stemming District Association could also do so, if there were any such cases.

A HINT TO MINISTERS

A clergyman in a neighboring town had been much annoyed by the way members of the congregation had of looking around to take stock of late comers. After enduring it for some time he said on entering the reading desk one Sunday: "Brethren, I regret to see that your attention is called away from your religious duties by your natural desire to see who comes behind you. I propose henceforth to save you the trouble by naming each person who may enter, and hope that the services will then be allowed to proceed without interruption." He then began: "Dearly beloved," but paused half way, to intirpolate "Mr. Stubbins with his wife and daughter." Mr. Stubbins looked rather surprised, but the minister with perfect gravity, resumed his exhortation. Presently he again paused: "Mr. Curtis and William Ciggle." The abashed congregation kept their eyes studiously bent on their books. The service continued in the most orderly manner, the parson interrupting himself every now and then to name some newcomer. At last he said still with the most perfect gravity: "Mrs. Symos in a new bonnet." In a moment he felt his mistake, but it was too late. Every feminine head in the congregation had turned around.—Ex.

DR. BELL'S EAGLE EYE SALVE

Good for Nothing but the Eyes

REPTON

(Delayed from last week.)

After several days of nice weather, the groundhog's sign is beginning to prove true. So we may prepare for more coal, notwithstanding the roads are almost impassable.

At this writing, indications are good for a large turnout of the "Sons of Repton." Their meetings have been pretty slim for the past several days.

If the Editor of the Record-Press will tolerate it, we would be glad to write something about the great movement that is predominating our county and state at present. The Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America, have had an able speaker in our section advocating the cause of the farmers. R. L. Barnett, of Paducah, Ky., and State Secretary of the Farmers' Union, as an able speaker and all who failed to hear him missed a great treat, and the writer must say that we can see why the grocery men, merchants, the bankers, newspaper publishers or other legitimate business men should object to the Farmers' Organization who are contending for better prices when everybody knows that if the farmers are prosperous, all business men would be more prosperous also. Mr. Barnett told us of the many good things that the farmers would enjoy if they become thoroughly organized, and we can't see why the farmers don't organize and "stick."

Mrs. Ed Perry went to Blackford Saturday visiting relatives.

Quite a crowd was in Repton Saturday evening, among whom were Bob Moore, his son, Lonnie, and two daughters, Misses Bertha and Florra.

C. R. Newcom, manager of the Farmers' Produce Exchange at Marion, has been in our midst several days working in the interest of the exchange house, soliciting subscribers for the business and he secured several hundred dollars in subscriptions. Mr. Newcom left Saturday evening for his home in Marion.

R. L. Barnett returned to his home in Paducah where his family will give him a welcome greeting.

We enjoyed a nice time at the close of Lonnie Moore's school at Moore's school house, Tuesday Feb. 14th. Lonnie had the pupils to prepare dinner, and together with the pupils and patrons we had an enjoyable and sumptuous dinner spread for all who were present.

Aunt Catherine Brantley is the guest of Mrs. Hugh McKee this week.

Mrs. John Stanley is on the sick list. With best wishes for the Record-Press and Marshal, we are yours.

Mrs. Mary Henry visited in these parts Wednesday.

Mrs. Lucy Brown, visited her daughter at Fredonia, Friday.

Hugh Brown, who has been at work on the rail road, in Webster county, has returned home.

Our young people had quite an interesting musical at George Jones', Thursday evening.

Prayer meeting was well attended at the church Wednesday evening. Mr. Burney Owen conducted the services.

Mrs. Willie Taylor is very sick with phthisis.

The young folks had an interesting singing at Mr. Jesse Stephenson's, Saturday evening.

Mr. Albert Babb lost a fine colt last week.

There is talk of the farmers putting up a telephone line from here to Fredonia. Go at it boys, we need it.

Mr. Grover Oliver purchased a fine horse last week, of Tom Jones, near Crayne.

We are anxiously awaiting for that four horse load of maps and charts to arrive.

Notice—All persons who were promised a map and failed to get same are requested to report the matter, with their name and address to John A. Moore, county attorney.

No bridges to be built in Crittenden for two years. Gee! what will we do here and at Free Betty Ford! Keep digging out jaw-bones I suppose.

As a certain young man and his sweetheart were crossing the creek at Free Betty Ford, a few evenings ago, their buggy dropped into the quicksand and threw both of them into a deep hole of water. They got out alive, but they say, they came very nearly freezing as "it was a very cold night." Mr. Magistrate if you had been that young man, you would vote for a bridge.
